To Whom It May Concern,

Lansky Enterprises is a management company that owns and manages both retail shopping centers and apartments in the metropolitan Atlanta area. For the last 25 years, my firm has been using Georgia Roofing and Metal Company for all roofing repairs and new roofs. My relationship with the company goes so far back that they are now beginning to reroof buildings that they roofed 20 years ago.

The relationship began when Marshall Bramlett and my late father-in-law, Rubin Lansky, came to terms and had Georgia Roofing reroof an apartment complex on Briarcliff Road. It was obvious, from that first job, that there was something very special about this company. Marshall, and his sons, Don and Mark have proven to us, over the years, that there is no roofing company in this area that does better work than Georgia Roofing.

But even more than that. The philosophy that is instilled in Georgia Roofing is truly, "the customer always comes first". The service and professionalism that is pervasive throughout the company is unparalleled. Each time I contact the company, I am greeted by a warm "hello" and a smile. When the few times I've needed a situation involving Georgia Roofing's warranty, Don has acted promptly and has never used any excuses. He is a man of his word – a rare trait in his industry.

While on the job, his crews are dependable, reliable, and treat the job as is it was their own property. I do like to pay a visit to the job site when Georgia Roofing is putting on a new roof for me. They are incredibly organized, with each employee steadfastly doing his job. After the work is complete, they clean the job site, sometimes even more than it was before they began.

Over the years I have recommended Georgia Roofing to other companies in my industry. At the end of each inquiry I tell the people, "Not only do I recommend Georgia Roofing, but I, personally, will stand by their work."

If you have any questions, or want to discuss Georgia Roofing about their work, please call me. I am happy to help outstanding companies like Georgia Roofing and Metal.

Sincerely,

Andrew C. Edlin
